

Ride 433 Report – 10 June 2012

A Stroll in the Park Ride.....!

Hares: Copy Cat, Goes Both Ways, Stiffy, Back Entrance and Too Easy.

Ride number 433, also known as the 'save the Danish bacon' ride, was seasoned with some heavy splashes of mud, some meaty up and down-hills, a good portion of single-track and technical sections and finished off with a dash of trail runners! Of course I have absolutely no idea where we went, but that's what a GPS is for!

Somewhere around the middle of the ride, I reached a junction where Coo Chi Coo was stationary. I asked him if he knew something that we didn't know, to which he cockily replied, "I, my half-blonde dear (he seriously said this!), am an experienced Hasher. If you want to ride down that hill to the T-check, be my guest". At that point one of the Hares, Goes Both Ways, pulled up alongside us and waited. "Do I have to ride down the hill to get you to follow me?" she asked. We presumed it was a rhetorical question. We didn't budge an inch as she rode off downhill towards the T-check!

By the end of the ride, we had lost at least half the pack that had started out, including three virgins. Does that make it a good ride? Who cares about a few missing bike Hashers? At the end of the day, only one Hasher we know about ended up in hospital to have surgery as a result of a crash on the ride - get better soon, Shirley!

All in all, it was an excellent ride! The Hares that turned up to set the ride, i.e. those who didn't text the others with feeble excuses such as 'I have a cold', aka WanKing, did a sterling job! Thanks Copy Cat, Goes Both Ways, Stiffy, Back Entrance and Too Easy!
OnOn

Scribed by,
Shut the Fk Up

6/10/2012 12:40:38 pm

Image © 2012 GeoEye
Image © 2012 DigitalGlobe

Google earth

Imagery Date: 4/13/2011 2003

1:23:23.56" N 103:46:00.65" E elev 37 m

Eye alt 8.91 km